The Three-Branch Integrity and Reciprocity Act of 2026

An Act to establish a perpetual accountability loop among the Legislative, Executive, and Judicial branches of the United States Government.

PROPOSED · 119TH CONGRESS

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES · PROPOSED LEGISLATION

H.R. [XXXX]

PREAMBLE

Whereas the separation of powers is the foundation of liberty, but excessive isolation breeds corruption, arrogance, and institutional decay; and

Whereas the Framers intended vigorous checks and balances, not hermetically sealed fiefdoms;

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled:

SECTION 1 — THE RECIPROCITY LOOP

ANNUAL INTEGRITY REVIEW CYCLE

A mandatory 120-day "Three-Branch Review Cycle" shall occur once per Congress (every two years), rotating through the following sequence:

LEGISLATIVE → EXECUTIVE → JUDICIAL ↻

Perpetual accountability loop · each phase reviews the other two branches

PHASE 1 Legislative review of Executive & Judicial

Congress shall convene a joint select committee to review the implementation and constitutional fidelity of all major Executive Orders and Supreme Court decisions issued in the previous 24 months. The committee may issue non-binding "Constitutional Concern Resolutions" by simple majority.

PHASE 2 Executive review of Legislative & Judicial

The President (or a designated Executive Accountability Board consisting of the Attorney General, Director of OMB, and one Cabinet Secretary on rotation) shall issue a public "Efficiency and Overreach Report" evaluating:

- the cost, effectiveness, and constitutional basis of all major statutes passed in the previous 24 months;
- patterns of judicial activism or restraint that affect executive function.

PHASE 3 Judicial review of Legislative & Executive

The Supreme Court shall issue a special "Structural Integrity Opinion" (non-case-specific) evaluating:

- whether recent legislation or executive actions improperly delegate core constitutional powers; and
- the clarity and administrability of major statutes.

AUTOMATIC TRIGGER MECHANISM

Any branch that fails to complete its required report and public hearing within the allotted time shall have its funding for non-essential operations reduced by 8% in the following fiscal year (automatically enforced by the Treasury). This penalty loops back to the offending branch only.

PUBLIC TRANSPARENCY LOOP

All reports and hearings under this Act shall be livestreamed, archived for 50 years, and accompanied by plain-language summaries. Citizens may submit comments that must be acknowledged in the final reports.

SECTION 2 — EMERGENCY MUTUAL CORRECTION

If two branches formally declare (by majority vote or 5–4 Supreme Court opinion) that the third branch is engaged in a "clear and present pattern of constitutional subversion," they may jointly trigger a Temporary Correction Panel consisting of:

CONGRESS	PRESIDENT	FEDERAL JUDICIARY
3 members chosen by Congress	3 members chosen by the President	3 senior federal judges chosen by lottery

The panel may recommend corrective legislation or executive action with expedited consideration. This mechanism sunsets after 180 days unless renewed by all three branches.

SECTION 3 — PROHIBITION ON PERMANENT SUPREMACY

No branch may claim permanent institutional supremacy over the others. Any attempt by one branch to permanently insulate itself from review by the other two—through court packing, self-serving rules changes, or expansive privilege claims—shall be considered presumptively unconstitutional and subject to immediate review under the Reciprocity Loop.

SECTION 4 — SEVERABILITY AND EFFECTIVE DATE

This Act is intended to strengthen, not weaken, the constitutional order. If any provision is held invalid, the remainder shall continue in full force.

Effective date: 90 days after enactment
